Description:

Have you been behaving badly? Does your life sometimes feel like a big, fat mess? Do you wonder what can be done about your damaged relationships? Are you living with the negative consequences of earlier decisions you now regret? There's hope!

Christian Life Coach Don Stewart wants to help you recognize that your life is a spiritual war zone, and you're being lied to. If you are ready to take an honest look at the past mistakes that led you here, you can learn to make the adjustments necessary to move in the right direction. God desires that you live a victorious, fulfilling life in vital relationship with Him and others. Stewart's approach, based on reality and solid truth, has successfully helped many Christians break free from the footholds and strongholds that prevent them from experiencing freedom and fulfillment. This is a valuable resource for pastors, counselors, Christian therapists, psychologists, and psychiatrists to read and to recommend to those they minister to.

Donald Stewart (MBA, DMin, PhD) spent the first two decades of his working years in the aerospace industry, transitioning into pastoral ministry after the moon programs closed.
