

Release Date: August 17, 2017
ISBN: 9781632694423
Retail: $15.99
Pages: 32

Category 1: Juvenile Fiction
Category 2: Christian
BISAC: JUV033100
Format: Hardcover

MAY I GO NOW?

ADAIR FLETCHER MIDDLETON

A little girl waits in Heaven for her turn to join her earthly family. She loves her morning talks with God. However, once she sees her family, she can't wait to go! Each time her family's baby bell rings, she asks, "Dear God, may I go now?"

This story is about our Heavenly Father's sweet love for us, the patience we learn as we trust in His perfect timing, and how deeply He desires a personal relationship with us.

For more info please contact media@deepriverbooks.com

Deep River
B O O K S

About the Author

ADAIR FLETCHER MIDDLETON

Adair Fletcher Middleton is a lifelong Florida girl, a wife to her fabulous husband Michael, a mother to four kiddos, a painter, a high school girls' discipleship group leader, and the owner of and head cheerleader at Middleton Pediatrics. When she has downtime, she loves curling up with a book next to her smoking hot fireplace—all year round. Adair has a bachelor's degree in public administration and public relations from one of her favorite places in the world, Samford University.

For more info please contact media@deepriverbooks.com

What Others Are Saying About May I Go Now?

“May I Go Now? is a timeless treasure for every child’s bookshelf! Adair Middleton beautifully captures the imagination of children while communicating the heart of their Heavenly Father. Beautiful story!”

— Courtney DeFeo, author of In This House, We Will Giggle

“To think that our children belonged to God long before they belonged to us is amazing. To believe He chose them and us to be together is incredible. It is this aspect of family that Adair has captured in a beautiful story that will touch every parent’s heart as well as every child’s. . . . It is with a lump in my throat I get to recommend her book to you. It will forever change the way you look at your family.”

— Dr. David Uth, Senior Pastor, First Baptist Church of Orlando

For more info please contact media@deepriverbooks.com

Suggested Interview Questions

For Adair Fletch Middleton, author of
May I Go Now?

Q: What inspired you to write this book?

A: The desire of my heart is for all children to know that God loves them, created them for a purpose, and wants to spend time with them each day to reveal His will for them. I would love this story to be a reminder to children and parents that God is waiting for you to call His name each day. He wants to talk to you, and hear from you.

Q: The characters in May I Go Now? bear a resemblance to your children. Were they your inspiration?

A: Of course, the characters are inspired by my four children, as my deepest desire is to see them spending time with God every day.

Q: Do you think something like what's in this story really happened with your children?

A: No, this is fiction, but as every mother knows, newborn babies always do seem fresh out of Heaven.

Q: You're not only this book's author, but also the illustrator. What inspires you artistically?

A: Painting is my peaceful time. I love to put on worship music and paint. I believe it is a sweet time of calm in my usually busy day.

Q: What message do you hope May I Go Now? sends to your readers, whether they be parents or children?

A: My prayer is that each reader would realize that a relationship with God is not a weekly event. Nor is it a Christmas and Easter relationship. God wants a daily relationship with us. He is truly waiting each day to hear us call His name.

For more info please contact media@deeperiverbooks.com

Q: Your passion about prayer can only come from experience. What is the role of prayer in your life?

A: My prayer time alone with God each morning is the most important part of my day. God tells us in Jeremiah 29:12–13, “Then you will call on me and come and pray to me, and I will listen to you. You will seek me and find me when you seek me with all your heart.”

For more info please contact media@deepriverbooks.com

